Tikal is the most significant archaeological site in Guatemala and is not to be missed. Its magnificent structures rise above the tropical jungle of the Petén region. Enjoy a full tour and lunch at the Parque Tikal, with an evening dinner and bedtime at the Jungle Lodge, a stone's throw away from the official site. In the middle of a tropical setting you will be serenaded by the raucous sounds of colorful birds and even howler monkeys. It's quite an experience! After breakfast you will depart to another Mayan site, Yaxha, which played an important role in the social and political organization of the area for more than 1,500 years. Located above two lakes it is a perfect example of biodiversity and preHispanic heritage.

COST USD $800 in shared room (2 beds)
